

IN TEARING HASTE: Letters between Deborah Devonshire and Patrick Leigh Fermor

By CHARLOTTE MOSLEY

Condition: New. In 1956, Deborah, Duchess of Devonshire -- youngest of the six Mitford sisters -- invited Patrick Leigh Fermor to Lismore Castle, the Devonshires' house in Ireland. This halcyon visit sparked a deep friendship and a lifelong exchange of sporadic but highly entertaining letters. There can rarely have been such contrasting styles: Debo, unashamed philistine and self-professed illiterate, darts from subject to subject while Paddy, polyglot and widely-read prose virtuoso, replies in the polished manner that has earned him recognition as one of the finest writers in the English language.
