Now, Walton, dont take unfair advantage, and well see you have a fair race to the fish! All ready, sir! said Ben Walton, while Willy quivered with excitement. Then off my lads, away with you! shouted the captain; and the sixteen oars took the water together with a splash--Williams and Walton cheering them on; while those left on board the ship gave them a farewell Hooray! to show their sympathy, even if they felt a trifle of disappointment at being left behind. They knew, however, that their turn would come next time. There was no need to encourage the oarsmen; both crews were rowing their very hardest, and it was a toss up which would first touch and tackle the prize, which, in the shape of tho sternmost whale, was now only about a mile ahead at best. (To be continued.) Ask your newsdealer for The-Golden Argosy. He can gel any number you may want. A FAMOUS WOMANS KINDNESS. One little story, out of numberless ones to which I listened, I will repeat, says a correspondent in the Pittsburg (Pa.) Dispatch, feeling Bure it has never been in print, and illustrative of Miss Garys (now Mrs. Raymond) character. One summer, as was her custom, she spent some little time in her fathers old home, a short distance from Portand, which she made her own during her vacation. It was after she was feted at home and abroad, had sung before crowned heads and nobility, and diamonds...
