

Walking to Mackinac: A Husband and Wife Explore Michigan (Paperback)

By David E. Bonior

The University of Michigan Press, United States, 2001. Paperback. Condition: New. New. Language: English . Brand New Book. According to his wife, U. S. Representative David E. Bonior is a contemplative man who has had some pretty harebrained ideas. It was just such an idea that led Bonior and his wife Judy to walk the 325 miles from their home in Mount Clemens--a suburb of Detroit--to the quaint coastal sidewalks of Mackinaw City, the Lower Peninsula's northernmost point. Walking to Mackinac chronicles the Boniors three-week journey to connect with the people and the history of their home state, to explore Michigan at human pace, and to appreciate it more fully. The Boniors plotted their own course, stringing together trails, back roads, and abandoned railway beds. They both carried twenty-five to thirty-five pounds on their backs, so they limited each day's effort to a walkable distance that would end at a campsite or motel. Both in their early fifties, neither of the Boniors had ever undertaken a trek of this magnitude or done any camping to speak of. Their daily challenges were humorous, daunting, and even frightening. While the book focuses on the Boniors journey, what moves the narrative...
