Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Manifesto: Addressed by General Francisco Villa to the Nation, and Documents Justifying the Disavowal of Venustiano Carranza as First Chief of the Revolution Unfortunately, the subsequent acts and statements of Senor Carranza awakened in the minds of many the fear that the pledges made by the revolution to the people would be brought to naught. The Division of the North, which had been singled out as the victim of the political intrigues of Senor Carranza, fearing, more than any other, the frustration of the revolutionary ideals, proposed at the Torreon Conference, in conjunction with the Division of the Northeast, a Convention established on democratic bases, to compel the First Chief to fulfil the revolutionary program, guaranteeing the creation of a democratic government, and the carrying out of the reforms necessary for the welfare of the people. Senor Carranza refused to accept the Convention, on the terms proposed at the Torreon Conference, and decided that, on entering the capital of the Republic, the Constitutionalist Army should summon a meeting of generals and state governors, to take up the study of the political and social problems of the revolution. If the Division of the North had lost faith in the First Chief, it could not enter an assembly whose members were in fact designated by him, since in him lay the power of conferring the rank of general and appointing the governors, thus assuring to himself, under all conditions, a majority of votes. When Senor Carranza took possession of the city of Mexico, thanks to the triumph of the revolutionary arms, in which public opinion today has already accorded, and history of tomorrow will accord, the Division...
