OPTIMIZATION PROCESSES IN AGRICULTURE

Condition: New. Publisher/Verlag: LAP Lambert Academic Publishing | Optimization Processes on Agricultural Holdings with Multi-objective Programming Approaches | The agricultural-planning process is important from both social and economic perspectives. Farmers strive to produce maximum output with minimum inputs (cost optimization). During the last few decades, in addition to the economic aspect, another key factor in modern agriculture has become the environment. This book thus considers two optimization models. One has been developed for reducing the costs in optimization of the...
