Homeless, Friendless, and Penniless: The Wpa Interviews with Former Slaves Living in Indiana

Indiana University Press. Hardback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, Homeless, Friendless, and Penniless: The Wpa Interviews with Former Slaves Living in Indiana, Ronald L. Baker, "Homeless, Friendless, and Penniless" is based on a collection of interviews with former slaves who lived in Indiana in the late 1930s. The interviews were conducted as part of Indiana's contribution to a federal project undertaken in seventeen states during the Great Depression. Over a three-year period, former slaves and, in some cases, descendants of former slaves, shared their memories with fieldworkers of the Federal Writers' Project (FWP) of the Works Progress Administration (WPA), renamed the Work Projects Administration in 1939. As a result of this early fieldwork in folklore and oral history, today we have an invaluable record of the lives and thoughts of former slaves who moved to Indiana after the Civil War and made significant contributions to the evolving patchwork of Hoosier culture. The Indiana interviews are especially notable because they were collected from freed slaves living in a state that was free during the Civil War. Most of the other former slaves interviewed for the national project still lived in the South, very close to where they were held in bondage....

This pdf may be really worth a read, and superior to other. It generally does not price too much. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.
