Excerpt: . . . chapter I. formation of regiment The Trip Across In the great World War, as in all other wars in which this country has been engaged, the negro has proven himself to be an interesting as well as an important factor. On January 1st, 1918, when it was announced that the negro soldiers would be mobilized and sent overseas to take part in the struggle, the eyes of the world were turned on the American negro. The patriotism and fidelity of these people had been rather doubtfully viewed by those who had not been closely related to them. When the call for volunteers came the negro National Guard units rapidly recruited to war strength, and when the draft came they responded to their countrys call. The period from January 1st to June 15th, 1918, was one of preparedness on both sides of the ocean, for after the soldiers arrived in France they were compelled to undergo the trench warfare training course. Among the colored units formed and sent overseas during this period were the 365th, 366th, 367th, and 368th infantry regiments, which comprised the infantry of the 92nd Division, or Buffaloes, as they were better known. The 369th, formerly the Old Fifteenth, of New York, which arrived overseas on 25 the 27th of December, 1917, the 370th, formerly the 8th Illinois, the 371st, a regiment of drafted men from the Southern States, and the 372nd, a National Guard unit composed of the 1st Separate Battalion...
