Reviews

This ebook could be well worth a study, and superior to other. It really is basic but unexpected situations inside the 50 % of your ebook. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

Dog Ear Publishing, United States, 2011. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Creative, artistic and imaginative, Andrea Magdelene Edmonds has been writing poetry for more than twenty years. She uses her life experiences to write poetry that is emotional, direct, clear, and relatable to women of all ages. Her writing style is deep in meaning and feeling, yet easy to understand. She has honed her craft by taking creative writing college classes and has shared her poetry in schools, poetry slams, readings and women s groups. Her poetry has appeared in several chapbooks, published in 2003 and 2004 by 3Ps- PAT PRODUCTION PRESS, including What it Means to be a Woman. In 2004 she was a featured poet in a choreopoem entitled Another Woman Thang, produced and directed by In The Company of Poets. Other published poems include On The Bus in an anthology by the Black History Museum Committee in 1978 and Katrina in Poetry Ink, tenth anniversary anthology in 2006. Andrea finds that her poetry, besides being a creative outlet, can also be used as a tool for healing old wounds, releasing pent up emotions, gaining greater self-awareness, and inspiring others. It is with the hope of inspiring others that she continues to share her poetry. This book of poetry is dynamic, emotional and raw. It is written from the author s real life experiences and tells of her perceptions and challenges from childhood to adulthood in a style that is clear, healing and empowering. The theme of what it means to be female is expressed often succinctly and to the point, making the poems easy to read and understand. Women of all ages can relate to these poems and some have even said upon hearing them that they sounded like...
