Reviews

These kinds of book is every thing and helped me hunting forward plus more. It is probably the most remarkable book we have read through. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

Brand New Book  Print on Demand .For many, this world is a perpetual half-way point, a cash strapped twilight between limitless dreams, and an even greater apathy to grasp them. A nowhere city, between the familiar troubled beginning and the universal overdue destination. On the plus side this maddening middle turns out to be a worthy world to write about. Sea sores is a debut collection of modern poetry in which Brighton and the sea, are recurring themes. The energetic city is situated at the fault line between England and the continent, between economic progress and economic stagnation, the place where sea, sky and land combine. A place where the counter point of the isolate country-side against the vibrant inner-city create a tension and energy, that has attracted many an outsider to call Brighton home. It is a fairly large collection of fragments, that when read as a whole or in part aim to create a sense of place and time. The work in these 250 pages explores themes of family, work, relationships and the natural world. It also deals with the anonymous reality of living in today s fast paced, unforgiving economy. Increasingly most live within a lifestyle lacking privacy, at the same time our jobs demand long hours, for low-pay, and are largely unsecured. What the real world deprives us of is now subsidised by the virtual world, it provides an outlet for escape, with addictive alga-rhythms programmed to feed off our stunted attention spans. A place of placebo, that never provides conclusion, true satisfaction or cure. I do not have the answers to any of these socio-economic dilemmas, I have merely observed and noted over time, what it is like to live and work in...
