When we picture CEOs, we usually envision a take-charge executive with a high-rise corner office and a wardrobe of sleek suits. But let's talk about a different kind of CEO, one that drives us closer to the most senior executive in our lives - Christ, with His Empowerment Opportunities. The book covers several topics that will help you achieve new levels of prosperity. It gives you a godly business plan that shows you how to strategize your life for personal success. Determination and perseverance are a duo package that God will place in the arena for success anytime. Based on the similarities and the responsibilities of a CEO - a chief executive officer -- incorporating that same respect and authority over one's personal life, the same ethics and goals practiced in business is also a solid formula for personal success, if you will apply the principals. Your personal life is the most important business you can own and operate. Why not invest in yourself? GOD has mapped it out and given you the instructions on how to do it. When you line up with His word, you've done what He wants you to do. With humility, believe you have a right to be blessed. GOD is good on His promise and He expects You to expect His blessings.
