What I Did on my Vacation? will probably be your kids first writing assignment once they are back to school. And this travel journal will help them greatly! With this travel diary you can inspire and encourage your children to keep track of their travels - without overwhelming them with too much writing. There are two pages for each day: On the first page kids can record the date and location and there are icons to select how they traveled, what the weather was like and how they felt about that particular day. There are also 3 short writing prompts to describe what they saw, the best thing they ate and something new they learned that day, like interesting facts and figures about a place they visited or about an animal they saw or a new word in a foreign language. The second page is dedicated for sketching and drawing the highlights of the day. Kids can make individual pictures or even create a comic strip of a funny event. They can also use this space to paste in postcards, entry ticket, leaflets or anything else that will remind them of that day. It will be so much fun looking back at those memories later! The book has enough pages to cover a 40-days journey or vacation. Click the Add to Cart button to get this travel journal for your child!.
