Excerpt from The Poetical Works of James Russell Lowell His Was indeed a nature sloping to the southern side, and his friends could bask in the even sunshine of it, while he kept the gloomy skies carefully to himself. After months of constant pain, and anxiety for his daughter s health which he sums up in half a dozen lines, he writes in October 1890 I am beginning to feel like my old, or rather my young self again. When you write next it must be in words of one syllable, and with everything adapted to the apprehension of a boy. I have had enough to do with death, nor wish to have more till my own turn comes, and that I am ready for, tho perhaps too easily contented here. But the earth is so beautiful And six months later, in his last letter, after a terrible relapse Yester day I left my bed where I had been lying for a fortnight, and am now hobbling about in felt slippers. I suffered such bitter torture that I foresee. I shall recover slowly....
