Excerpt from Transactions of the Nineteenth Annual Meeting of the American Academy of Ophthalmology and Oto-Laryngology: Held at Boston, Mass., October 19, 20, 21, 1914 It seems wise to allow the program to furnish the material for scientific thought and discussion and permit the presiding officer to devote his efforts to a review of the work of the Academy and to some suggestions relative to its present welfare. The two publications with which this society has been closely allied and which it has done much to promote furnish each of you with a list of important contributions to our specialty, and when combined with the Year Book and special journals, oer a most comprehensive up - to - date resume of the year s progress, making a recapitulation of the literature of the year inadvisable at this time.
