[.]intrusive, and found him through the infrequent medium of a weekly mail. It was at the beginning of the retrospective enthusiasm that has served to revive the memories of the War, and he received a letter from an old comrade-in-arms, giving the details of a brigade reunion shortly to be held at no great distance, and, being of the committee, inviting him to be present. Girard had participated in great military crises; he had marshalled his troop in line of battle; as a mere boy, he had ridden with the guidon [.]
