Excerpt from Outdoors in Georgia, Vol. 4: June 1975 The recession and its impact on the state budget were the major themes Of Georgia s 1975 General Assembly. Media coverage of the session understandably highlighted tax relief, the equal rights amendment, and public kindergartens. For this reason, the very significant advancements made in natural resources legislation did not gain deserved publicity. The 1975 session could, in fact, be called a conservation session. Sixteen important bills were passed. Here is a summary of these bills: House Bill 148 Heritage Trust - This Act establishes the Heritage Trust Commission as a citizens advisory body to the Board of Natural Resources. In doing so, the Act requires the Board to continue its program of acquiring property which represents the state s cultural and natural history. It also sets forth a dedication procedure for land given to the state through the Heritage Trust Program.
