CONGRESS OTA PREVENTIVE interventions comprising medical with pr ed res, tests, or visits OC U preventive services; that is, promoting health care providers that are undertaken for the purpose of health, not for responding to patient signs, symptoms, or complaints (U. S. Congress, OTA, Feb. 1990). In general, preventive services in this background paper involve interactions between individual patients or consumers and health care providers. However, OTA includes in this background paper those preventive services that do not fit neatly into this typology. For example, H. R. 4 3229 introduced in the 102nd Congress by Representative Dellums would cover the prevention of illness through education and advocacy addressed to the occupational, social, and environmental causes of ill health. OR APPROACHES TO HEALTH CARE REFORM Box A contains brief descriptions of the major contemporary approaches to health care reform. These are: Play or pay (or mandated employment-based coverage with a public backup funded at least in part through a tax on employers); Single payer (or universal coverage...
