

The Black Arrow (LEATHERBOUND, SIGNED)

By Suprynowicz, Vin

Mountain Media, Las Vegas, Nevada, 2005. Hardcover. Condition: New. No Jacket. 1st Edition. "The portals are everywhere, now, scanning for weapons, for drugs no getting out of line. The people had forgotten how to fight back. There was no one to show them how. Or was there? In the dark of the city's night, wherever the weak or oppressed cry out in pain or fear, a quiet footfall can be heard on the roof, the owlshadow passeth before the moon. The twang of the bow, the quiet gasp of feathered death The Black Arrow lives." A tale of the resistance in a near-future American police state, first novel by the syndicated Libertarian columnist (author of "The Ballad of Carl Drega" and "Send in the Waco Killers,") freedom-oriented fiction nominated for the 2006 Prometheus Award. New leatherbound book direct from publisher, one of only 1,000 total copies so bound. Reduced from $40. Inscribed by Author(s).
