Barnabas, iv. 6, v. 6, viii. 7, ix. 4, x. 2. Comp. Harnack, Ausbreitung, 47; 2 Cor. iii. 14-16. The moment of separation can no longer be detected, if any such moment there was. Paul did not live to see it. His eyes were fixed upon the coming kingdom, in which there should be neither Greek nor Jew.¹ As the Christian church found by and by that it walked most easily alone, it continued alone, retaining still its loving hold upon the ancient Scriptures, without which it did not pretend to walk at all. It was far on in the second century before they had any other Bible.² The Jewish Scriptures, on being adopted by the Christian church, did not become Christian...
