Berrett-Koehler. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, The Abundant Community: Awakening the Power of Families and Neighborhoods, John McKnight, Peter Block, Sharing Our Gifts We need our neighbors and community to stay healthy, produce jobs, raise our children, and care for those on the margin. Institutions and professional services have reached their limit of their ability to help us. The consumer society tells us that we are insufficient and that we must purchase what we need from specialists and systems outside the community. We have become consumers and clients, not citizens and neighbors. John McKnight and Peter Block show that we have the capacity to find real and sustainable satisfaction right in our neighborhood and community. This book reports on voluntary, self-organizing structures that focus on gifts and value hospitality, the welcoming of strangers. It shows how to reweave our social fabric, especially in our neighborhoods. In this way we collectively have enough to create a future that works for all. This book challenges the conventional wisdom about what you and I can do as citizens to shape our future. It offers concrete examples of what citizens can do and have done by drawing on resources in their families and communities. David Mathews, President, Kettering Foundation This book is the basis for health and happiness in any society. A must-read. Quentin Young, Chairman, Health and Medicine Policy Research Group, and former President, American Public Health Association What we need is here. ' That line from a Wendell Berry poem sums up the theme that runs through this vital and timely book. This book is a treasure. And it can help us recover the treasures hidden in plain sight within and among us, renewing ourselves and our democracy as we go. Parker J. Palmer, founder of the Center for Courage and Renewal...
