Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from A Guide to Methods and Observation in History: Studies in High School Observation The outlines herewith presented have grown out of the necessities of a course conducted by the writer in the training of teachers in the University of Michigan. The course has been styled Methods and High School Observations in History. It has been open only to seniors and graduate students who have specialized in history and who expect to teach that subject in high schools. The work has consisted of one class meeting per week for eighteen weeks, and of twenty hour-observations of history teaching in the AnnArbor High School. The outlines, therefore, were designed to serve as a guide to these observations and as a basis for subsequent discussions. In order that the students might have a deeper appreciation of the meaning of history and the various conceptions that have been held regarding it, and in order that they might possess at least a general knowledge of the place history has occupied in the schools, the elements composing historical events, and the...
