Abbeville. 1 Paperback(s), 1992. soft. Book Condition: New. Raised in Greenwich Village and trained in Paris, Bernard Maybeck (1862-1957) spent most of his long architectural career in northern California. He was an irrepressible bohemian with no desire to run a large office, and spent much of his time designing Arts and Crafts houses for friends and family, as well as for other patrons who often hired him to design additional houses. As seen in this gorgeously illustrated monograph with 170 color photos, 72 black and white photos, and 21 plan drawings Maybeck also created two of the most beautiful buildings in California: the elaborately carved Church of Christ, Scientist, in Berkeley and the romantic Beaux-Arts style Palace of Fine Arts in San Francisco. "One of the unclassifiable originals in American architecture along with Frank Furness, Bruce Goff, and, today, Frank Gehry Bernard Maybeck devised a completely personal vocabulary of building, assembling a harmonious whole from an unlikely array of unusual forms and inventive details. Richard Barnes's ravishing photographs are the first to convey in color the complex splendors of Maybeck's inimitable achievement." NYTBR 247.
