Knapp, Jr. And George Crowninshield, Esq.: For the Murder of Capt. Joseph White of Salem, on the Night of the Sixth of April, 1830 Morton Attorney-General, stated, that the paper contained an account of the murder, authenticated on every page, containing nine pages, by the hand writing of the prisoner, and- accompanied by a note in the hand writing of Joseph Jenkins Knapp, Jr., stating that he had done it without pledge or bribe, or solicitation of any person whatever. If that was not to be introduced, he did not know what could be given in evidence. Mr. Gardiner was about going on to argue against the admissibility of the confession, when Judge Putnam remarked, that all the facts relating to the mode in which they were obtained should be first known, and accordingly. Mr. Coleman was again called, and testified. I first beard of the arrest of the Knapps on Thursday morning, the twenty-seventh, but I did not visit him that day, but went on Friday morning. I consulted,...
